

The United States Official Investigation of baking powders, made under authority of Congress by the Chemical Division of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., recently completed, shows the Royal Baking Powder to be a cream of tartar powder of the highest quality, pure and wholesome, and superior to all others in strength, leavening power, and general usefulness.

QUESTION.—A man is in need of money. His wife is a prima donna. Can he raise money on her notes? If you would never be in need of money, trade with Olco-vich Bros. The store contains dry goods, groceries, boots and shoes, carpets, etc., in all the variety possible. Their prices will please you. The quality of the goods they handle is the best the market affords. Pigs and facts are stubborn things. These are facts! We are like the tree that covers with flowers the hand that shakes it.

Yours Truly.

Will you suffer with dyspepsia and liver complaint? Shiloh's Vitalizer is guaranteed to cure you.

COUGH! AND COUGH! AND COUGH!—What in the world is the reason you will cough and keep coughing and still keep trying inferior medicines when BEGG'S' CHERRY COUGH SYRUP will positively relieve your cough at once? This is no advertising scheme, but an actual fact, and we guarantee it. W. H. Chedick, Druggist.

Sleepless nights made miserable by that terrible cough. Shiloh's Cure is the remedy for you.

Two Mormon elders hailing from Utah, have been tramping through Washington and Holmes counties, Fla., and a party of eight women were secured as proselytes. Parents and other relatives of the women captured the Mormons, tied them to trees and flogged them unmercifully. The young women were returned to their homes and made to switch each other.

"KISS ME TWICE, JOE.—Joe Choyinski defeated Davis of Omaha for $2000 Monday Night. Last year, when he won his first fight, he came home about 3 o'clock in the morning, and his mother fell upon his neck weeping and kissing him. His father pretended to be asleep, but the boy roused him with:

"I vin, fader."
"How much, Joe?"
"One thousand tollar."
"You may kiss your fader, Joe. Kiss me vonce. Ven you vin two thousand tollar you may kiss me twice."

THE TAHOE WATER SCHEME.—Von Schmidts Tahoe water scheme has been pronounced unlawful by San Francisco's City and County Attorney, Glourney, because the charter of the city prohibits any expenditure by the Board of Supervisors aggregating over five per cent of the taxable property of the city. The appropriation asked for this purpose is $18,000,000.

Five per cent of the taxable property of San Francisco amounts to about $15,200,000.

"POOR TOM'S A COLD.—Yesterday Jack Furlong missed his faithful dog Tom, and after a long search found him dead in his new refrigerator. He has just rigged it up for cooling beer, and Bill Pickler had inadvertently shut the animal in. The dog had frozen to death. He was buried yesterday in Jack's back yard, and on a shingle the Shakespearean inscription was placed: "Poor Tom's a cold."

A CADET TO WEST POINT.—The Grass Valley Telegraph says: Hon H. F. Bartine, Representative in Congress for the State of Nevada, has the appointment of a cadet to the West Point Military Academy. The appointment will be made after a competitive examination to be held on the fifth of next June. We suppose that no California boy can ring in on that business. Californians can get to be United States Senators for Nevada, and Californians can get many other positions that belong over in the sagebrush land. But the line is drawn against Californians when it comes to the appointment of a boy. The bright young fellows of Nevada are "too fly" to allow themselves to be cheated.

STEWARTS DISCOVERY.

No Record of Silver Demonization in Congress.

A Washington dispatch makes the following important announcement:

It is claimed to-day that Senator Stewart of Nevada has discovered that the position of the silver bill of 1873, which demonetized silver, was never discussed or agreed to in the United States Senate. He secured yesterday, according to the New York Sun, a copy of the bill as it was reported to the Senate from the finance committee, after having passed the House, a copy of the bill was used at the clerk's desk when the subject was under consideration and the bound volume of records containing the engrossed bill. It is said, with the aid of some of the clerks in the Secretary's office, the official stenographer and two or three silver Senators, Mr. Stewart examined the whole matter carefully and found what he regards as evidence of trickery in the passage of the bill. This evidence is the fact that the Congressional Globe containing the official reports of the debates and proceeding of the Senate contains no mention whatever of the demonetizing section having been read, debated or considered in the Senate. The section was added by the Senate Committee on Finance to the House bill, and was printed in italics, as all the other amendments were. The pages of the Globe show the progress, step by step, and the debates upon each section until the demonetizing proviso is reached, when there is a break in the records, and when it is again taken up it is at a point further on in the bill. From this record it does not appear that the demonetizing section was ever read to the Senate, voted upon or agreed to.

Senator Stewart was quite excited by his discovery, and said to those about him in his characteristic vigorous language: "I have claimed ever since the bill was passed that there had been trickery practiced in inserting the demonetizing section, and now I am more than ever convinced that monkey business was indulged in."

Senator Teller, who was sent for by Senator Stewart that he might give his opinion, made a thorough examination of the case and remarked, in his quiet way: "Well, there is certainly something wrong. I have looked this matter up before, and I have never been able to straighten it out."

Senator Stewart is not making much of a stir about the matter just at present because he admits the possibility that he may yet be found to have been mistaken. The matter as it stands has a very serious look to him, however, and if he finds upon further investigation that the belief of himself and other silver Senators as to sharp practice in passing the bill is well-founded, he will spring the sensation upon the Senate in the shape of a searching investigation. That, he confidently believes, will bring to light some surprisingly interesting and important facts.

THE LEAD TARIFF ALL RIGHT.

The Senate Committee on Finance will begin work on Monday on the Tariff bill. There will be a very strong pressure brought to bear upon them to change the lead ore clause. The Senators from the mining States are confident to night that the efforts will prove futile. Senator Teller informed the Tribune correspondent to-day that, while every movement would be watched, he was certain that all attempts to break down the mining interests of the West would fail. The rumors of numerous Western "defections on lead ore," said the Senator, "are untrue. The McKinley bill, at least so far as this schedule is concerned, will stand."

WHERE TO GET FLOWERS.—The Bell Conservatory of Sacramento, furnishes a good many flowers for Carson people on Decoration Day. It is never too late to write to Sacramento or telegraph for flowers, and even at the last moment the Bell Conservatory will fill an order in the best of shape.

COAST NEWS.

G. N. Ryerson, a prominent citizen of Fulton, Cal., dropped dead at Santa Rosa Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Ellis, living at Central Hill, Calaveras county, Cal., was drowned in a well Saturday night.

W. F. Smith & Co's powder house at Westerville, Cal., was blown to atoms Saturday night. Scarcely a dwelling in town but was damaged.

Quail are coming over the mountains in considerable numbers. In attempting to fly across Donner Lake many fall in and are drowned. Albert Johnson saw a whole covey fall in last Sunday. He succeeded in rescuing quite a number.—Truckee Republican.

Robert Hardie, a prominent lawyer of Los Angeles, was shot and killed Saturday by Apache Indians in Rucker Canyon, about fifty five miles East of Tombstone, A. T. Dr. Francis L. Haynes, a companion of Mr. Hardie, asserts positively that the assassins were Indians.

How do You Stand?

Since the election of the silver delegates by the citizens of Ormsby county to attend the Silver Convention to be held in this city on Thursday, some doubts have been raised as to the sort of silver men some of them are. The names of the parties are R. M. Clarke, Evan Williams, Judge Edwards, George Chedie, John Wagner and S. P. Davis.

Of course, the people of this county do not want to be represented in the Convention by anyone not absolutely for silver. It would probably be a good idea for each of these delegates to communicate with their constituents through one of the daily papers of this county, that there need be no mistake about the proposition.

Anyone selected at Saturday night's meeting who is not for unlimited silver coinage ought at once to resign from the delegation and allow someone else to be selected in his place.

The public have a right to know how each man stands before the Convention meets, that all rumors may be set at rest.

The columns of the APPEAL are open to any member of the delegation.

Only a Fake.

LOS ANGELES, May 24.—Walter G. Smith, the gentleman named to be Governor-General of the proposed new Republic of Lower California, in an interview with the Evening Express, says: "The so-called filibustering movement at San Diego, reduced to its final analysis, was a conference of men who knew something about Lower California and whose joint opinions upon annexation were asked for by a Michigan gentleman, who had a project of invasion in his mind. Many plans were discussed but none had been adopted. B. A. Stephens, a newspaper reporter who had written about the peninsula, was called in. He it was who offered the scheme of government, with its array of titles and dignitaries. Harris, newspaper reporter, who was styled 'Surveyor General,' never had connection with the movement. He was taken up by Stephens as an intermediary between himself and the San Diego Union when Stephens had concluded to write a filibustering sensation and sell it to the highest bidder. The San Diego Union took the bait, also other journals."

THE POTTSSES MUST HANG.—Attorney Plummer was before the Board of Pardons yesterday pleading for the Pottsses, his clients. His theory of that case was that the husband did not kill Foucett, but perhaps helped to cut him up and conceal the body after his wife had made away with him. He asked for a commutation of sentence to life imprisonment. The Board refused the application.

Mrs. Maude Stine has just received another new stock of millinery which will be disposed of at very low prices. Children's leg-horn and fancy straw hats a specialty. Ladies wanting stylish goods should call.
